

Message from your President - Kristi Johnson-James

I am in the anticipation mode. YOU know what I mean. The Christmas season is almost upon us. All the committees have been meeting for some time now, and all seems to be in order. (Weather: PLEASE hear my plea!) I realize many of you can't attend all the events, but each and every one wishes to extend a "Welcome" to you. The Lucia Luncheon, at St. Mathews Church in Beaverton, will be held beginning at 12:30 p.m. on Saturday, November 6th. It will feature light refreshments. The Oregon Lucia candidates will share their accomplishments with us. It's a delight to see how each girl furthers Scandinavian culture within the community. Next, ScanFair is held at Portland State University in the Smith Center the 4th and 5th of December. Come see the Oregon Lucia crowned on Sunday, shop for all your Christmas gifts, and visit with your dear friends and make new friends! Just come hungry! Lucia Fest held at St. Paul Lutheran Church, 39th and Brooklyn St. in Portland, is at 4 p.m. on December 11th. Swedes say this service is as Swedish a service as you will see in Sweden, if not more so. Sadly, last year's Lucia Fest was cancelled due to forecasts of heavy snow and ice. So this year it is even more anticipated. Please read this newsletter and check out our events section at www.newsweden.org for additional holiday activities.

On Saturday, November 13, Friendship Farms in Rainier, Oregon opens their Lingonberry field for u-pick, accepting only donations which they will match and present to our Scandinavian Heritage Foundation. They provide a tour of the farm and delicious desserts and coffee. Some of us attended last year and can attest that it is a wonderful event. Carpooling is recommended, and they need an estimated number of guests to prepare for, so if you are interested, please call Denver James at 503-454-0135 by Nov. 8 to confirm.

I would like to close this message with a few words about why New Sweden exists. Our goal is to share the culture of Sweden amongst new and old friends. To do this we participate in Scandinavian events such as Midsummer and ScanFair, and host or co-host annual events such as Valborgsmässoafton, Kräftskiva, and Lucia Fest and special events such as our 20th Anniversary Dinner in 2009. Each year we provide significant support for the Trollbacken Language Camp for Children. This year, we helped fund a Swedish Garden and Bus shelter across the street from Fogelbo and we donate funds and services in support of the Scandinavian Heritage Foundation. We purchase insurance to cover our activities and we occasionally purchase equipment, canopies, tables, chairs, etc., for our many events. We also host a website, www.newsweden.org, and produce this wonderful newsletter four times a year. We are most careful with your dues dollars, and augment them significantly through several fundraising cultural events each year, such as the Annual Antique and Garage Sale, last year's Fogelbo Glögg party, and this year's Swedish National Day Dinner and Fogelbo Swedish Pancake Breakfast. We are thriving and sharing. All because of you, our supportive members. Thanks!

Hi Stefano,
what are you
cooking?

Chef's corner

Today I would like to present your readers
the dish;

Stekt Gravlax med Fransk Potatissallad
(Fried Gravlax with French Potato Salad)

Smaklig måltid! (Bon appetite!)

Ingredienser (4 personer)

4 Gravlax fileer à 140 g
1 ask sockerärtor
500 g mandelpotatis
2 msk kapis
Kapisbär till garnering
2 st rödlökar
2 msk dijonsenap
1 dl matlagingsyoghurt
0.5 dl jungfruolja
2 msk sherryvinäger
Salt och vitpeppar

Gör så här:

1. Koka potatisen i saltat vatten, häll sedan av vattnet och skiva den.
2. Skala och hacka rödlöken.
3. Blanda yoghurt med senap, jungfruolja, vinäger och smaka av med salt och peppar.
4. Skölj och skär sockerärtorna i strimlor.
5. Blanda potatisen med kapis, rödlök, sockerärtor, och senapsdressingen. Smaka av med salt och peppar. Spar lite dressing att garnera tallriken med.

Ingredients (4 people)

4 Gravlax fillets 4.5oz each
1 pint sugar peas
1lb small potatoes
2 tablespoons capers
Caper-berries for garnish
2 red onions
2 tablespoons Dijon mustard
1 cup plain yogurt
2 oz virgin olive oil
2 tablespoons sherry vinegar
Salt and white pepper

Preparation:

1. Boil the potatoes in salted water, then pour off the water and slice it.
2. Peel and chop the red onion.
3. Mix the yogurt with the mustard, olive oil, vinegar and season with salt and pepper.
4. Rinse and cut the sugar peas into strips .
5. Mix the potatoes with capers, red onion, sweet peas, and mustard dressing. Season with salt and pepper. Save a little dressing to garnish the plate with.

Things you need to make Gravlax:

Salmon!

1/4 Cup Sea/Rock Salt

1/4 Cup Sugar

1-2 Tablespoons Crushed Peppercorns

2 bunches Fresh Dill, stalk-ends removed.

THE BEST EVER NEW SWEDEN & SKANDIA LODGE,
Bengt's 2010 Kräftskiva in the garden at Fogelbo!

That funny paper hat will put you in the right mode my dear

Preparation for the Big Party!

Happy Hats

With the best possible Oregon weather, best people, best Crayfish, and a new songbook you have the absolute best ingredients for a very successful August Crayfish Party. And we did have the best of the best with a lot of eating, drinking and singing, some better than others but we had a lot of fun and a good time.

Wonderfully cooked crayfish together with other traditional Swedish foods served with,
The Swedish holy trinity S.O.S. – Smör, Ost och Sill! (butter, cheese and herring) – the most Swedish of Swedish!

Thank You!
Hard working ladies

The Fogelbo Pancake Breakfast sponsored by Harmoni and New Sweden Cultural Heritage Society was a success, even if we had some suspect weather conditions to deal with. We got sun all the way, dry and liquid!

Swedish pancakes cooked on the spot with all the fixings including lingonberries, wild plum jam from Fogelbo, whipped cream, sausages and coffee, milk or juice, and all for $6! An enthusiastic crew from the two organizations worked hard to satisfy the guests that really enjoyed the event.

Somebody asked how much pancake mixture we used? - We used about 15-16 gallon! This takes a lot of mixing and whipping!

Can local government and home owners associations work together? - Yes, it is true they can!

The folks in the "Oleson Road Crossing Committee" desired to build a Swedish inspired bus stop shelter for the local school children, close to the headquarters of the New Sweden Cultural and Heritage Society, across the road from Ross Fogelquist's Fogelbo in Portland.

They issued an application to Washington County transportation to build the bus stop shelter and waited for a response...and guess what they got, a response they didn't expect.

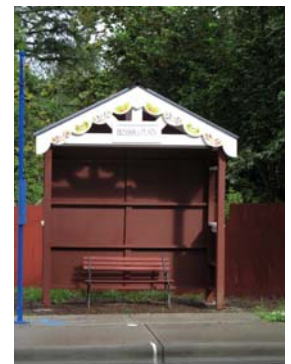

"Please let the folks on Oleson Road know that we have not forgotten about their bus stop shelter. On the contrary, we have come up with the following strategy, to work with them to get the structure constructed and sited, through our Right-of-Way permit process.

Please note that Washington County is willing to provide structural design assistance if you have trouble getting someone to do the calculations".

Operations division
Portland, Oregon

A donation from the New Sweden Cultural and Heritage Society helped with the construction cost, significant work was put in by the HOA members and Swedish Kurbits decorative painting was done by a local artist, GunMarie Rosqvist.

A small "Swedish Garden" is planned to be planted next to the bus stop shelter.

Candidates for 55th annual Oregon Lucia Court

The Lucia program is an Oregon tradition since 1956 that brings young woman with a passion for Scandinavian tradition and heritage.

The traditional story of Lucia is about a Sicilian maiden who gave her life for her faith. She gave her dowry secretly to the poor and when her fiancé found out, he denounced her and she was tortured and killed.

Swedish tradition holds that in Värmland, Sweden, a white-clad maiden wearing a crown of burning candles and a red sash brought food to starving villagers on the shores of Lake Vänern, a much happier tradition. On the morning of December 13, the singing of "Santa Lucia" is heard everywhere as the white-robed maiden comes out of the night with her burning crown of candles to dispel the darkness, bringing bright light to the Christmas season. While it was originally a Swedish tradition, it has since spread to other Scandinavian countries.

Lucia morning is celebrated in nearly every Scandinavian home, office, church and at large public events. Traditionally she brings coffee and Lucia buns (safran bulle). She is generally accompanied by a train of white-clad attendants.

Candidates between the ages 16 and 22 (at least junior in high school, unmarried and a citizen of the U.S.) should send their applications to SHF and to be postmarked no later than November 5, 2010.

Report from 2010 Trollbacken Language Camp

35 children ages 7-13 and about 18 counselors participated in the successful five days of fun activities at "Trollbacken" Swedish Language and Culture Camp at Menucha Retreat, Corbett, Oregon.

Art, Crafts, Language, Sports, Music and singing were some of the popular activities during the week.

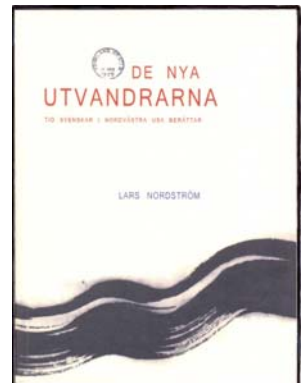

The Viking theme was popular. They learned the history, language and created their own runestone with text in Viking runescript. More information www.trollbacken.org

In the Works: A New Book by Swedish Roots in Oregon

By Lars Nordström, SRIO

After the success of Swedish Oregon (2008), which was generously praised by reviewers near and far, SRIO was encouraged to start working on yet another volume. This new book will be a translation of ten oral histories compiled and edited by Lars Nordström at the turn of the new millennium. It was originally published in Sweden in 2005 as De nya utvandrarerna [the new emigrants]. It remains the only book about contemporary Swedish immigrants to the United States.

In it you will meet ten contemporary Swedish immigrants to the Pacific Northwest who tell their stories of how they came to leave one country for another. The five men and women all arrived in the post-Vietnam War period, and offer some very interesting perspectives on Sweden and the United States. They explore many aspects of the bi-cultural experience; probe cultural and linguistic allegiances; illuminate unique and divergent Swedish and Swedish-American needs; and re-define the immigrant experience in the internet era.

Keep an eye out for this book in the spring of 2011. (www.SwedishRootsInOregon.org)

Delightful Swedish tunes at Fogelbo delivered by Sigtuna Brass Sextet.

During a wonderful summer afternoon we were treated with traditional Swedish Brass Band music recalling the era of popular promenade music from the 1920's, various folk music and other well known tunes, played in open air concerts parks across Sweden.

We heard music written by composers such as Bellman, Taube, and Adolpson which seem to portray the Swedish heart during their contemporary periods. The band performed the "The Royal Ball" by Gustav Fröding. A portrayal of a Oscar II ball in honor of the wedding of Crown Princess Victoria and Daniel Westling at midsummer, 2010.

Ross Fogelquist introducing Sigtuna Brass Sextet

The sextet wears the Swedish military captain's uniform from the late 1700's. Unique are the three buttons on the sleeves which represent the three kingdoms of Sweden at the time—Sweden, Norway and Finland.

Guest artist Björn Sjögren portrayed highlights from major Swedish troubadours reflecting life felt at the deepest level in the Swedish heart from 1780-1980.

We hope they will come and entertaining us again!
